

Three Sun Valley Students Take Home Top Honors in Art Competition

Sun Valley seniors Samantha Grisaffe, Colleen Dicamillo, and Joshua Cannon earned 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place honors for photographs submitted in the annual Congressional Art Competition. All three students were honored on Monday, April 25 at the Wayne Art Center.

Each spring, a nation-wide high school arts competition is sponsored by the Members of the U.S. House of Representatives. The Congressional Art Competition is an opportunity to recognize and encourage the artistic talent in the nation, as well as in each congressional district. The Congressional Art Contest invites all high school students through the 7th District to submit artwork. The artwork was judged alongside works submitted by 11 other area schools by a panel from the Wayne Art Center.

“I am extremely proud of my students and very happy they have the opportunity to not only display their beautiful work but get the recognition they so deserve,” stated Sun Valley Art Teacher Colleen McCarthy.

The winning photographs, along with work submitted by Sun Valley Photography 2 and 3 students Samantha Sidoriak, Arianna Curry, Sarah Salvitti, and Melissa O’Neill, will be on display until May 6th at the Wayne Art Center, 413 Marplewood Road, Wayne, PA, 19087.

Samantha Grisaffe

Joshua Cannon, Samantha Grisaffe, & Colleen Dicamillo

Colleen Dicamillo

Joshua Cannon