

Please Save the Date and Mark Your Calendars!

Penn-Delco School District 4th Annual Technology Expo

Thursday, January 26, 2012
5:30-7:30 p.m.
Sun Valley High School

Penn-Delco invites staff, students, parents, and community members to join us at our 4th Annual Technology Expo.

This event has grown to become quite an attraction every year. Join us as students and faculty members demonstrate the latest educational technology that is used within our classrooms throughout the district. See and experience first-hand how our teachers and students make purposeful use of technology. Visit and view presentations in Sun Valley's own Planetarium, learn about hand-held devices and educational applications, see how our interactive promethean boards are used to enhance instruction, or check out our array of technology programs used throughout Penn-Delco. Other exhibits include: Robotics, Podcasting, Wikispaces, Educational uses for Ipads, Digital Music, Technology in Phys Ed, Computer-Aided Design, Photography and so much more! We welcome our community to come and see your district's commitment to technology excellence.

Additional Information will be released prior to the event. The district hopes to see you there!